

March 26, 2020

To all of our kitten heroes,

At The National Kitten Coalition, we understand this is a stressful time due to COVID-19 uncertainties, and want to help kitten heroes through it. There are many unanswered questions, kitten season is fast approaching and many shelters are overrun with cats AND dogs coupled with sidelined staffs and volunteers.

NKC is here for you with safe, online learning opportunities as in-person conferences are being cancelled. We just scheduled several webinars, and you can also find our archived webinars, printable handouts and a link to the upcoming Online Kitten Conference on our website. Please check back as we will be adding more handouts over the next several days! You can use unexpected 'free time' you have to learn how to save kitten lives!

And, if you are now working from home and need company, please consider fostering for your local shelter. This can be particularly helpful for the most vulnerable--kittens!

Finally, and most importantly, NKC wants you to know that nothing is more important to us than your health and wellbeing. Please stay safe, and thank you for doing what you can.

~Staff and Board of Directors, The National Kitten Coalition

P.S. If you have an idea to help more kittens in your community, please email Lora@kittencoalition.org.